2551 PPCLI Cadet Corps

This Corps will be recruiting new cadets between the ages of 13 - 17 years this fall. Interested boys should report to the Drill Hall at The Hamilton Gault Barracks at 7:00 p.m. Wednesday, September 5th, 1962 or on any Wednesday following.

The Corps offers training in a wide variety of military subjects such as rifle shooting, drill, wireless, first aid, map using and fieldcraft. Selected Cadets are eligible to attend summer training camps at Vernon, B.C. and Clear Lake, Manitoba. Cash bonuses are paid to cadets attending Vernon Camp.

In addition to the summer camps the Corps conducts an annual week-end field exercise. This year's exercise was held at Camp Wainwright, Alberta. The cadets fired automatic weapons on the rifle ranges and received instruction in basic fieldcraft. The exercise culminated in a tactical exercise in the training area followed by an overnight camping out. All cadets greatly enjoyed themselves.

2551 PPCLI Cadet Corps is sponsored by the PPCLI Depot. This means that the Corps has the services of Regular Army instructors and training accommodation.

At present the Corps is in need of new cadets. All boys interested in joining are urged to come down to the Drill Hall at the above mentioned time and date. This will in no way place you under any obligation to join.

Further information may be obtained by phoning GR 9-8411 Local 463 at any time during normal duty hours.

SCOUT CAMP

We had the opportunity of observing the first and the last days of the Scout Camp at Wabamun Lake and we were very much impressed by the excellent feeling among the boys. True, a few fell by the wayside early in the week but we are sure these boys will have learned a lesson from it and will "Be Prepared" for next year.

We were mildly astonished to see pots and pans gleaming bright after eight days over a smoky fire, as well as reasonably clean hands and faces on some Scouts.

Comments from various Scouts who attended indicate that they feel that they worked hard but enjoyed themselves. Perhaps I should say they worked hard and as a consequence, enjoyed themselves, for surely there is enjoyment to be found in hard work. If they have learned just this lesson, the camp was a success.

We extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to Sgt. Harper, Sgt. Duoplas and Pte. Bousiere for an excellent job and we hope that these men will continue to lead and inspire these boys in the best aspects of Scouting.

Don't worry because a rival imitates you. As long as he follows in your tracks he can't pass you.

Griesbach Scouts Go to Camp

The combined Summer Camp of A and B Troops of the First Griesbach Scout Group was held at Lake Wabamun from Saturday, Jun. 30 to Saturday, Jul. 7, 1962 with 28 boys and 3 leaders in attendance. The weather on arrival could not have been better but this soon changed late on the 30th Jun. with rain on and off until Tuesday. From then on the weather was perfect for scouting.

Patrol Leaders for the Camp (Boyd Van Aggelen, Night Hawk Patrol, Tony Jackson, Eagle Patrol, Derek Egan, Unicorn Patrol, and Monty Webb, Slugabug Patrol) set up patrol sites in very dense bush in the area, cleaning out weeds two feet deep and small saplings every two of three feet. Each morning an inspection was carried out and points awarded on the basis of cleanliness of the patrol site, and tents, improvements to the camp sites and cleanliness of cooking and eating utensils. As the week progressed the competition between patrols became a very hard job for the inspecting parties. The boys were up on some mornings at 7 A.M. cleaning the site and getting ready for inspection.

Swim parades were held at least twice each day and once they tried swimming early in the morning. The swimming area was not the best. To get into swimming water you had to wade out about 200 yards where the lake had a decided drop to about 15 ft. deep in about 20 ft. Four scouts earned their swimmers badge, Ron Appleton, Derek Egan, David Lawford and Chuck Henault.

The week passed with a few cuts and bruises. Ron Appleton cut his leg on the swede saw and required three stitches. Eric Pearson came up with an abscessed tooth, had it pulled and came back to camp. Two boys came down with the flu on the Monday and were returned home. Three others just decided that they didn't like camping and gave up.

A Camp Fire was held each evening with the Patrols contributing skits and songs. Hot Chocolate was served with cookies after each camp fire. We had the Canoe Camp Course Scouts in for our Camp Fire on Wednesday and returned the visit on Thursday night. During the camp the leaders were given new names. Skipper (Mr. Harper), Mate (Mr. Douglas), Bosum (Mr. Bussiers), and Ghopher (Ron Turnbull).

The troop went on a hike on Tuesday, afternoon and returned to camp tired and ready for a swim and supper. Each leader had occasions to taste meals prepared in the patrol sites by the scouts and found in most cases the food was quite well prepared.

British General Visits Saskatchewan Militia Group

General Sir Richard Hull, Chief of the Imperial General Staff visited units of the 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade Group and No. 21 Militia Group from Saskatchewan at Camp Wainwright, Alta., July 3 and 4. Discussing training problems at the camp are from left, Brig. W. J. Moogk, Saskatchewan Area commander; Maj. Gen. J. M. Rockingham, general officer commanding Western Command, General Hull, Brig. J. A. Pringle, No. 21 Militia Group commander and Lt. Gen. Geoffrey Walsh, Chief of the General Staff for the Canadian Army.

Saturday, the 7 Jul. found the troop up bright and early cleaning up the sites and getting ready to leave for home. The final interview was held with the patrol leaders. The Eagle Patrol for the best showing. Tony Jackson, Chuck Henault, Jackie Gilday and Robert Adams were presented with slap knives and camp crests. Ron Appleton was presented with a clasp knife and camp crest for the most tests passed in camp. Paul Brauti was given the same prizes for being the most willing and hard working. Five other scouts were presented their camp crests for Honourable Mention. Boyd Van Aggelen, Night Hawk Patrol, for the best laid out patrol site, Bob Buckley, the hardest worker in the Slugabug Patrol, Ted Fitch for being a very willing worker and most quiet, Derek Egan (his first try at being patrol leader) for carrying out a very good job and Ron Turnbull for his fairness and help to all the patrols and the leaders during the camp. Two boys were invested at the last ceremony, Richard Pearn and Eric Pearson. The flag was lowered for the last time at 2 P.M. on the Jul. 7th and the boys returned home to their parents and TV sets until next year.

Giants Win the Title League

As a grand finale to a most successful season of baseball, on Friday 29 June 1962, the Giants, coached by Cpl. T. R. Southwood assisted by Cpl. G. Chisholm, defeated last year's champion Red Sox 8 - 3 to take the trophy and capture the league championship.

The team under Team Captain Carl Curtis consisted of Leslie Swontek, Chuck Henault, Robert MacNab, Brian Jamieson, Norman Gay, Robert Egan, Wayne Von Hagen, Bruce Clark, Carl Vanderstratten, Douglas Major, Danny Reeves, Brian Hudson and Mark Tuttle. Art Cunningham acted as bat boy.

Three cheers for the Giants; — and well done all Little Leaguers — better luck next year.

Without a doubt there are future big league stars in Griesbach.

Although nobody loves an umpire, we would like at this time to say thank you very much to Lt. Scrutton, Sgt. Curtis, Sgt. Patterson and Sgt. Palmer who handled the series so well. Also, all managers and co-managers of the teams are to be commended for the time, interest, enthusiasm and timely baseball tips given to the boys. They are as follows:

Red Sox — Cpl. Gillingham, Cpl. Hughes, Pte West.

Yaskees — CSM Ferguson, Spr. Hall.

Dodgers — Pte. LaPlante.

Giants — Cpl. Southwood, Cpl. Chisholm.

Cardinals — Sgt. Willard, Pte. Freeman.

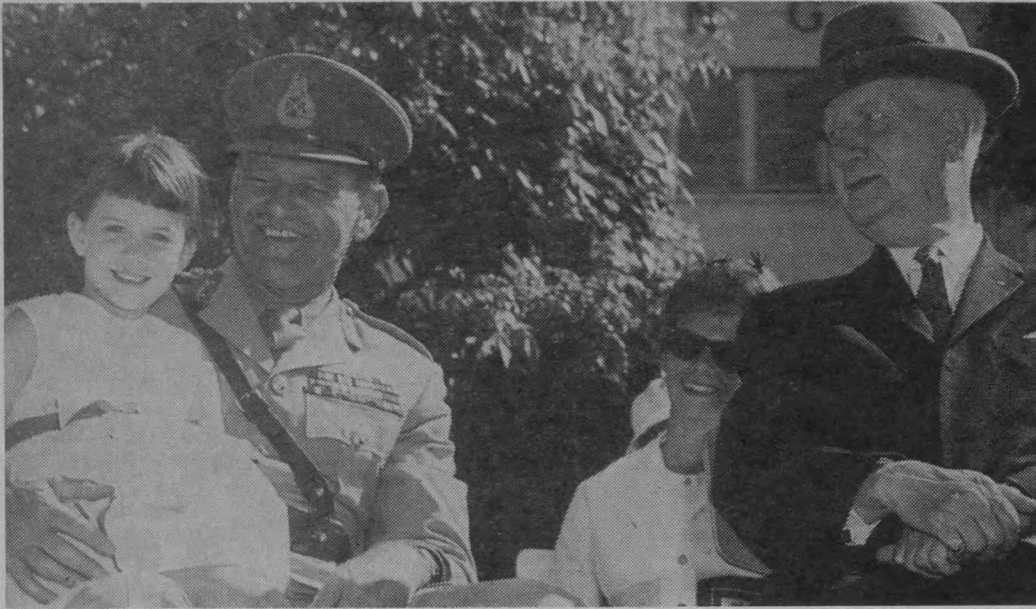

Indians — Lt. Orman, Sgt. Taylor, Cpl. Thibault.

And last but not least — to the man behind the scenes — a lot of credit also goes to 2 Lt. Baxter for his part in the organization — the paper work, purchasing and control of equipment, and supervision of the playing diamonds. — Again, thank you all.

To be a gentleman is a worthy trait, but it is a great handicap in an argument.

INDUSTRY REWARDED

When a summer breeze blew some programs onto the parade square at the Legislative Buildings in Edmonton during a Canadian Army massed band concert, Major General J. M. Rockingham, General Officer Commanding Western Command, who was accompanying Lieutenant Governor J. Percy Page on the reviewing stand casually asked nearby little Lyn Eddy if she would mind removing the offending piece of paper. Lyn promptly complied and got this perch on the General's knee as her reward.

"OLD ORDER CHANGED"

Tradition was reality for a moment at Sarcee Barracks, Alberta, during an inspection of the Lord Strathcona's Horse (Royal Canadians) when the armored regiment's Centurion tonks — their modern "mounts" — rolled past their pennant holding marker on a horse recalling the cavalry days of the regiment. Taking salute (right) of dipping 20-pounder guns is General Officer Commanding Western Command, Major General J. M. Rockingham.

REAL COOL CAT

EASTERN COMMAND
CANADIAN ARMY

GRIESBACH — It was a jinxed lynx that arrived on the scene at Griesbach Barracks just north of the Edmonton's city limits the morning of July 20th.

After a call from an observant resident at the big army establishment Canadian Provost Corps military policeman, Corporal Vern Hisdal, 10387 - 102 St., Edmonton was despatched to the scene and brought the feline low with one shot with his hunting shot gun.

The animal weighed in at 45 lbs. and was promptly despatched for a rabies check.

Local Fish and Game authorities believe it had entered the Army camp during the night searching for jack rabbits that have been appearing in increasing numbers.

GRIESBACH CURLING CLUB

A meeting of the Executive Committee was held on 9 Jul. 62, when the President announced that the Club is now an institute within its own right rather than part of the Griesbach Garrison Regimental Fund. As a result, more direct management will be possible which should lead to better facilities for the curlers.

Approval has been obtained to insulate the walls in the rink and instal a heating system in the lounge. This work will be completed by 15 Aug. 62.

Plans for the coming season were discussed and it is suggested the committees of the various leagues might well start their planning in order to provide the Executive Committee with their wishes for ice as soon as possible.

What A Bore

A real estate salesman spent the entire Sunday afternoon showing a young couple through a number of model homes.

"And this," said the salesman at the tenth house, "is an added feature that the other home do not have — this is a hobby room. Do you folks have a hobby?"

"Yes, indeed," replied the couple.

"And what is it?" asked the salesman.

"Looking through model homes on Sunday afternoon dates."

Services Play Large Part at World's Fair

More than 650 Canadian servicemen and members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police will participate in the Canadian Tattoo at the Seattle World's Fair during the week of September 10 to 15. It is the first military tattoo of its size to be written and produced by Canadian service personnel and staged outside the country. It will be presented nightly as part of "Canada Week" program.

In addition to the Canadian Tattoo, which will include the RCMP musical ride, the Royal Canadian Air Force will present an aerial display by the Golden Hawks flying team each afternoon, and a daily concert by a 100-piece RCAF band. During Canada Week, an Escort Squadron of the Royal Canadian Navy will be anchored in the port of Seattle. The ships of the squadron will be open for public inspection.

The spectacle will open with a 50-man guard of honour from the Canadian Guards, who will form up with their regimental band for inspection.

An historic atmosphere will prevail throughout the production as the tattoo depicts the three phases of Canada's military past (French, British and Canadian) with all troops performing in the dress uniform of the periods represented.

Don't Be Bargain Happy — Watch Automobile Repossession Racket

By BARNEY O'KANE

Summertime is the season of driving, and unethical used car dealers who operate on the outer periphery of the law, are again baiting their advertising or the unwary used car bargain seeker. Their misleading advertisements pretend to offer an automobile repossession on the basis of simply taking over the payments owing. There is the implied thought that such an arrangement is a great saving over a regular purchase. Generally, such advertising is run in the classified section of some of the big city newspapers, and appears to this:

REPOSSESSION

'53 Merc customline, radio, signals, heater, etc. finished in original Merc blue. $482 owing. Just take over payments of $23 mothly. Ask for Dix GZ. 79n45.

Various other heading are used with the same intent, such as "Bank Seizure", "Foreclosure", etc.

The bargain-happy buyer reading the advertisement, phones to enquire, and is told by a pleasant-voiced salesman or supposed "credit manger" et al, that all he has to do is to take over payments, plus supposed "bailiff" fees and other charges which may total whatever the used car dealer thinks he can secure as an immediate cash downpayment.

Frequently, at this juncture, some credit information is secured by phone in order that the victim may be more quickly "railroaded" into a deal when he visits the used car lot.

Now follows his visit to the used car lot, where he is skilfully steered through a quick road test of only two to six blocks on smooth pavement by a salesman who, more than often, knows both the major weakness of the car and the shady aspect of the deal. Sometimes the customer is given the amazing information that the car firm supposedly not covered by insurance for a road test of repossessions, so all testing is limited to a sales person starting and stopping the motor.

Enamoured with the word picture of this supposed car bargain, the deluded buyer now signs an agreement of sale, generally on an "as is, where is, without recourse or guarantee" basis. His cash down payment is whatever can be secured from him and is generally treated as unrefundable.

TWO FINANCE AGREEMENTS

Credit information is now thoroughly taken, and the victim with his wife or co-signer is steered first to a small loan company to borrow on a note loan the 1/3 normally used for initial down-payment. This generally involves either furniture of real property as security. After this agreement is made on the remaining 2/3 with the automobile as security.

Like an alcoholic waking up to a hangover, the victim wakes up to the fact that he has been bilked. He learn that the "repossession" bargain is a misleading advertising hoax which has involved his house or furniture, even if he loses his car for missing payments. He is actually financed a used car on the no-down-payment plan at a full price with high interest rates of 2% monthly on the note loan and 10% annually on the acceptance agreement. Also, he frequently learns that the total price of his car is actually higher than that listed for a similar car by better legitimate dealers.

CASH PAYMENTS UNREFUNDABLE

If his credit fails to be approved, the would-be-buyer may find that he cannot recover the money he has paid for the so-called "bailiff charges" (actually a cash down-payment), or that some fictitious "credit investigation" charge has been deducted from it. Frequently, with a specious appearance of honesty, his down-payment is refunded in the form of a credit note on a new car, good for 30 days, and because financing is impossible for him, he still gets nothing. It is not unusual in these borderline deals, for hundreds of dollars to be pocketed from forfeited down-payments.

These firms consider no car as sold until the credit is completely approved, so it frequently happens that there are seven or eight persons negotiating at the same time for the same car. With forfeited cash down-payments, it is easily observed that this makes for a lucrative business.

But generally in the long run, the man who loses his small down-payment to these sharp dealers is the lucky one. The buyer, who is taken, pays high interest and in addition often finds that no exact monthly payment is guaranteed in the advertisements or frequently even on the sales agreement, so that after it has been handled by the acceptance corporations, he may find that he is paying 20 to 30 dollars more per month than originally advertised. He is the pawn in the lucrative game played by legal borderliners, and is placed in the grip of a financial vice.

Buyers, especially used car buyers who make a capital expenditure, should learn to exercise good business sense and beware of being bulldozed into supposed bargains. Every real buy stands investigation.

CANNOT "TAKE OVER PAYMENTS"

Despite advertisements, payments can never be "taken over" on repossessed automobiles. They have lapsed, and a new agreement is necessary. Repossessions are generally returned to the used car dealers on recourse agreements from auto finance companies. A genuine offer will be indicated by the finance company being actually named and the actual outstanding amount as the full price, which is generally much less than the regular price of a similar used unit. It will be honestly represented as an entirely new agreement.

As a rule, no-down-payment buying is an unsafe business practice, but where the purchaser is confident that his income is adequate to cover regular payments and maintenance, it can be real help in securing immediate and needed transportation. It is unnecessary, and sometimes unwise, to finance through an auto sales office for the no-down-payment plan. Frequently, the finance company they recommended is a subsidiary company of their acceptance corporation. Often when it is actually needed, better small-loan arrangements for down payments can be secured through a bank, credit union, or finance corporation with whom the buyer has already dealt and established a line of credit!

BEFORE BUYING — CHECK!

Before signing, every agreement of sale should be carefully checked and examined by the buyer.

WELSH COP CANADIAN PRIZE

Three soldiers from 1st Battalion Royal Welch Fusiliers of the British Army at Camp Wainwright, Alta. cross the finish line of a gruelling nine-mile forced march competition to win the "Mounted Rifle" trophy from under the noses of their Canadian counterparts of 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade Group. The Welshmen did the cross-country course, which includes field-firing, in two hours and 13 minutes. Platoon must all cross the finish-line together and have all their equipment with them. Blazing prairie sun made the march the toughest in three years. In second place was a platoon from 2nd Battalion Queen's Own Rifles of Canada from Calgary, Alta. with a time of two hours, 20 minutes, and third were 1st Battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry from Victoria, B.C. with a time of two hours, 26 minutes.

- It should leave no blanks or uncertainties, but always include a full description of the car to be purchased with serial and motor number and full price.
- All accessories should be individually listed.
- Down payments, and the number, months, and amounts of time payments should be specifically included.
- If a trade is made, the exact amount allowed should also be definitely stated.
- Any agreement or guarantee regarding parts, service, or repairs must also be fully written into the sales contract.

No buyer, under any circumstance should allow himself to be talked into signing without taking these elementary precautions and checking the sale agreement for the exact description of the vehicle purchased and the terms of sale. Verbal promises are worthless unless in writing approved by the firm. Never sign until document is fully completed and until you have matched the motor and serial numbers of the agreement with the purchase. If the sales staff "hems and haws" and desires a signature prior to completion, leave at once — it is too likely that they are playing things for their own advantage in a shady deal.

Buying sight unseen, or car untried, is both dangerous and foolish. In the used car field, the prospective buyer, who is eventually paying hundreds or even thousands of dollars into his transportation, should use great care in checking his purchase. He must not allow himself to be talked out of a thorough road test and mechanical check-up. While it is true that almost all used cars need some minor repairs, the so-called repossessions are too often simply "lemons" or wrecks which have been advertised to hurry a sale and take advantage of the bargain-hunter.

A few dollars investment into a good book on used car check-up and buying, or hiring a reputable mechanic to check a prospective purchase, will always be a sound investment and cheap protection for every used car buyer.

MONEY PROBLEMS?

Along with misleading repossession advertisement, there is also the self-styled "credit manager" who offers a car and cash to clear up a few back debts, generally advertised under the classified catch-line of "Money Problems?" The amount suggested is a total of about $1,000 with $600 to be used in purchasing a used car which is sometimes only actually worth about 2/3 that amount, and the remainder of $400 is paid in cash.

Any person with "money problems" should be warned. Continued on page 12)

lems" who can pass this "credit manager" would have no difficulty in making personal arrangements for themselves with a finance corporation or credit union, without the added danger of being taken advantage of in a used-car lot. The approach of "money problems" removes the bargaining power from the customer in buying a used car, and he is generally limited to a selection of similarly second-rate transportation.

Already, in many of the larger cities, crooked used car operators in the legal twilight zone are being folded by legal measures. Unfortunately, should a buyer be taken in by misleading advertisements, there is little that he can do. The contracts he signs in gullibility are generally binding. However, he should not fail to contact his lawyer and the Better Business Bureau immediately to have assistance in any possible avenue of redress.

PREVENTION — THE BEST CURE

The best cure is prevention. A used car buyer should always protect himself by completely checking the motor vehicle he intends to purchase, and then never signing an agreement of sale without first checking all its details and guarantees. Too often, buyers allow some sharp salesman talk them out of these very primary precautions.

Many Canadian provinces are introducing added protection for the customer by requiring bonds of used car salesmen. Every encouragement should be given to this legislation both by honest car dealers and car owners or buyers.

Much of the trouble, however, arises from the unchecked stream of side-show barker advertising in the newspaper classified sections which mislead ordinary buyers. It is here that we find this snarl of trickery and catchy claims to catch the unwary.

The remedy for this lies in the hands of the newspaper subscribers, both individuals and firms, expressing their strong disapproval of their newspaper being used as an advertising catch-all for misleading statements.

Every advertisement should state:

- The total price and total down-payment required.
- Number of months to be financed and monthly amount.
- Either the license or motor number.
- The phone or location where the vehicle is available.

There is nothing wrong with no-down-payment, but certainly no car should be advertised as a "repossession" or similar unless such is the actual fact. Nor should dishonest wording, such as "take over payments" be permitted to deceive the public.

This safeguard, with a bonding system, would make it almost impossible for the sharpie and the borderliner to operate in the field of legitimate used car selling.

Their legal loopholes would be cut off and their doubtful avenues of operation blocked.

Don't Be a Sucker!

READ THIS ARTICLE AND SAVE YOURSELF MONEY

By BRUCE BROWN
Manager Better Business Bureau, Edmonton

The information contained in this story is good. Anyone contemplating the buying of a car read it. I must add that these things are happening here in our fair city, but, fortunately, the parties responsible are in the minority. Frankly, the victim is invariably the party who can ill afford the loss, or the legal fight in which he becomes involved if he defaults the terms of the contract or payments.

FRIENDLY SERVICE

Complaints filed with the Edmonton BBB have been from young men, who may be endeavouring to find a bargain, but have not taken the usual precautions as outlined. It is imperative that a person, who has no mechanical experience, should for his own protection, have a vehicle checked carefully by a qualified mechanic — to make certain that the car is as represented.

A prospective purchaser must be careful about placing a deposit on a car before thoroughly checking the vehicle, because some dealers may refuse to refund same if the deal is not consummated. Some have been known to issue a credit certificate, applicable on the purchase of another vehicle, and some of these certificates may have to be taken up within 30 days, even though the dealer may not have a vehicle suitable for the prospective buyer's needs. Speaking of credit certificates, some holders of these have advised us that when they went to make their selection, they found that the price on the vehicle in which they had shown an interest had been increased in price by the amount of the certificate or more, and thus they found they were holding a practically useless piece of paper which had cost them money.

In order to recoup their loss they would have to take legal action, and many young people feel they can ill afford to take a chance on the outcome of such an action, and would sooner drop the whole matter and charge it up to experience. This has put money into the hands of the unscrupulous operator, and the reputation of all car dealers suffers from the dealings of the few.

THE QUEEN'S FAWN

A Cinderella of Camp Wainwright, Alta., is this newly-born fawn abandoned by its mother in 2nd Battalion Queen's Own Rifles of Canada lines, when an unquiet 5,000 troops of 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade Group descended on the 636-square mile camp for the annual summer training concentration. Rifleman Earl Nielson of Winnipeg and Calgary took on the nursing job. After inoculations by game officials the fawn is to be presented to the Calgary zoo. The western Canadian training area has been declared a game preserve and no slaughter of wild life is permitted.

REPLENISHING HIS SUPPLY

Tulsa Tribune Managing Editor Harmon Phillips is back from an Associated Press Managing Editor convention in Dallas with this yarn, told to the group by U.S. Attorney General Robert Kennedy.

It seems the attorney general had a dream that he had died and was knocking on the Pearly Gates. St. Peter barred the way, explaining that Kennedy couldn't come in because he had made so many promises in the 1960 election which had not been fulfilled.

Kennedy told that he argued with St. Peter for some time, and finally the Gate Keeper handed him some chalk, pointed to a tall ladder and said, "Okay, you can come in if you'll start climbing and will mark all those election promises which you failed to keep."

Kennedy started climbing, morking off political promise after promise. Suddenly he noticed someone coming down the ladder.

"I looked up," Kennedy related, "and saw that it was my brother Jack. I asked him, 'What are you doing here?'"

"Jack replied, 'I'm coming down for more chalk.'"

NOTHING TO FEAR

A psychiatrist and a friend were walking down the street and a stranger passing by paused to kick the psychiatrist in the pants. The head shrinker walked on unperturbed, without even a comment, and his friend asked, "Aren't you going to do anything about it?"

"No," the psychiatrist replied, "That's HIS problem."

Not all bums are boors.

Some are quite charming. Take the one who asked for 20 cents for a cup of coffee.

"Twenty cents. A cup of coffee only costs a dime!"

The bum swept off his battered hat, bowed low and said...

"Won't you join me?"

Worse than a quitter is the man who is afraid to begin.

PERFECT ENDING

A successful businessman lay dying insisted that his remains be cremated. A friend agreed and asked cautiously, "And what do you want done with your ashes?"

"The ashes?" said the dying man, "You will place them in an envelope addressed to my Ex-Wife, and tell her that now she has everything."

A BIG MES

Kit: "Gee, but that date last night was fresh."

Sue: "Why didn't you slap his face?"

Kit: "I did... and take my advice, never slap a guy when he's chewing tobacco."
